My Dear Henry: This is a dictated letter. The thoughts are mine but the penmanship is that of a man named Bessley, who is doing the chores for us this winter. My reason for hiring a private secretary is that last Theoday the strawberry blonde Shote slumped through a hole in the ice, and in striving to rescue him from a watery grave I fell and broke one of my legs, just above the fellock. Kind friends came from everywhere to ask me if it hurt much, and in a thousand different ways showed their gentle desire to draw me into a spirited conversation. When he puts in his bill for medical attendance of the control of the contr ance he will be surprised to find an offset of 80 cents for that tree. I may be slightly crippled, but you can announce in your valuable paper that there are no flies on me to speak of.

While spread out here with nothing to do my mind has been quite active, and I have had drawn off for me the following outlines of a will, which I send you inclosed herewith. "Please read and return," as it says at the Rible reach on heard the cars.

on the Bible rack on board the cars: Know all men by these presents, that I, the subscriber, being of sound mind and re-alizing that I am now under the doctor's care, and therefore may be swept into eter-

care, and therefore may be swept into eternity any moment, do hereby make, execute and publish this my last will and testament firmly by these presents:

1st. I hereby appoint my beloved wife Henriette to be my sole executrix, assignee and receiver of my entire estate, with full powers to pay taxes on said estate forever, and to be an and to hold the same an long as and to have and to hold the same so long asgrass grows and water runs, together with such other and further relief as the Court may adjudge.

21. I hereby request that the red horse Napoleon be sold and the proceeds thereof used towards defraying my funeral expenses, provided that the sum of $25 therefrom be set sold for the appropriate set aside for the purpose of maintaining a large, aggressive buildog, whose duty it shall be to monkey o'er my lawly grave ustill my dust shall be of no use to science. It is my desire that my executive shall so maintain said buildog hercinbefore set forth in order that pimply young medical students may not make too free with all that is mortal of a superior man. It is my special desire that no part of my economy shall

I desire to state also that I hope whatever may be odd or eccentric or abnormal about my formation may be generously mal other way. I request also that at my funeral the free list be suspended and that those only who have a personal interest in the proceedings be permitted to take part. Persons who make the funeral industry a business or rely upon it as means of relaxation are reted to abstain from my funeral as a per-onal favor to me. I give and bequeath, make over and present to my beloved wife Henriette, all and singular, my real and personal property aside from said horse Napoleon, heretofore enumerated and set aside for funeral pur-poses, to have and to hold all said property during her lifetime, and after that the said real and personal property to pass to my beloved son Henry who is engaged in pub-lishing a paper at $2 a year. To said be-loved son Henry I also bequeath all my wardrobe. I have worn out his old lawntennis and polo ciothes while he was at-tending college, using his boating and base ball suits for underclothing during the winball suits for underclothing during the winter, and now that I am about to pass on I leave my own underclothing to him as a slight testimonial of my appreciation for his kindsess to me when I had no polo suit of my own. I also direct that an sobituary, consisting of forty lines, relative to me be printed in my son's paper, eodôt, at ten cents per line, to follow pure reading matter, for which the sum of $24 will be found in an old sock in my escretoire in the barn.
